

Become a Pet First Aid Instructor

Prerequisites:

1. Certification in a hands-on Pet First Aid course within the last two years. Online certification will be accepted in some cases; contact instructor at fourleggedfirstaid@gmail.com.
2. Read the Effective Adult Learning module (provided by instructor).
3. Working knowledge of PowerPoint or an equivalent slide production program.
4. Ability to use a photo-editing program.

System and material requirements:

Laptop computer (MAC or Windows) with a CDROM drive and USB port

PowerPoint or an equivalent slide production program

Photo-editing program (GIMP can be downloaded free-of-charge here:

<http://www.gimp.org/>)

Optional: flash drive

Optional: large realistic stuffed animal for demonstration purposes

Sonya Wilson is a certified educator and has taught Emergency Pet First Aid and Animal Disaster Response since 2011. She has 26 years' experience training both humans and dogs. She is a Certified Professional Animal Care Provider.

NOTICE: Class size is kept extremely small for the students' maximum benefit; however, there is a minimum registration level for the class to be held. You will be notified well in advance if the class will not be held. All money paid will be returned.